“ My first encounter with Tony was in 2001. I was new to the FAA and was tasked with helping Tony do some maintenance at Hilton Head airport. I quickly learned two things about Tony. He drove really fast as I was scared for my life, and he loved a witty, somewhat sarcastic discussion.

When returning from Hilton Head on I-95 Savannah airport exit, I noticed construction had just began on the Home Depot. Just making conversation, I said “I didn’t know they were building a Home Depot..”. Tony quickly replied, “What... they didn’t check with you first?” and smiled. He was always fun to talk to.

Tony would be the first to donate to charities, flowers for funerals, or anything else that he could help with. He had a big heart, a kind and giving spirit, and we will miss him at Savannah SSC.

“ Tony was slow to come around to the new technology of his FAA iPhone no matter how hard Curtis and I tried to convince him it was so much easier than his legacy laptop. Due to our new telework situation brought on by the COVID-19 pandemic I decided to reach out to all the employees via FaceTime to just check in and chat. It was Tony’s turn and when he answered I was looking right in his ear..... I kept telling him I was FaceTiming him and he finally looked into the camera, deadpan, and said in his own Tony way, “why am I seeing your face?”. We both had a good laugh, chatted a few minutes and then he hung up. I never really knew what he would say but it was always to the point with no sugar coating. I will miss him dearly.

“ I was shocked and so sorry to hear about Tony's passing, I could always count on one thing when I came to Savannah to do any work at the Airport, and that was getting a chance to see and talk to Tony about any of my projects that I was working on there. I loved that fact that Tony knew where all of the equipment that I was working on would be located on the airfield, and he always had great stories and that dry sense of humor. I also knew that if I wanted him to go to lunch with us, I would just tell him we were going to "The Frog and The Peach". Tony will be truly missed, he was one of the great ones, and made it a pleasure to come work at the FAA office in Savannah. My prayers are with his family.
