“ I knew Brad from his Florida days. His parents were our neighbors. He and my brother were best friends. He was in the Navy. I loved his parents like they were my own. I worked with Gwen in the office of Cliff's business for a summer. His younger brother and I went to school together. Brad was the sweetest, most caring guy I knew at the time. I had the biggest crush on him. Finally, got him to notice his best friend's kid sister and he became my first serious boyfriend. Of course, as life goes, with high school sweethearts, it rarely lasts forever. He left for his Mediterranean cruise and thought it was unfair for me to not go have fun and enjoy my HS days so we broke up. We stayed in touch for a few years. Reconnected a couple times. Once his brother, Lance, died and his parents moved away I lost touch with him. I've wondered about him many times through the years and always hoped that life had treated him well. Rest well
